

Virginia Beach, Virginia

The world's largest resort city in terms of land, Virginia Beach offers ocean front, bay front, riverside and lakeside living, as well as quiet neighborhoods with plenty of trees, and rural ones with lots of open spaces. The growing public school system consistently receives accolades, the two annual art shows on the boardwalk are nationally known and between the boutiques, malls and "super stores," the shopping is terrific. The Virginia Beach Amphitheater provides the entire area with plenty of national musical entertainment.

First Landing State Park, The Contemporary Arts Center of Virginia and the Virginia Marine Science Museum are just a few of the city's attractions, as well as 28 miles of beaches.
